

Addressing my Allegations (Serious Document by AaronCS7)

Hello. This is Aaron talking on this document. If you're reading this, I'm going to admit my bad actions. Get ready to read this!

I admit what I did was very very very wrong! And I now regret it all! So here are my admits!

I regret saying weird things about characters that are less than my age. (Such as calling a character cute, but it's kinda off a bit when I said it. But still. When you're grown up like me, things change.)

I regret saying the n word once when I was told to or else. This got me in deep trouble, I wished this didn't happen. (But the guy who told me to say it or else apologised to me. So it's Ok.) I'm not a racist and I never will be!

I regret stalking 8bit. The reason why is, after that hoax that I don't want anyone talking about again, this made me have to move on from his fandom. But I can still talk about it sometimes and play his games, just not anything else.

I regret calling Clark a slave and threatening him. I know I did say things in anger, but I'm trying my best to stop. Also, what I did to insult him was use a quote from Chef PP Quits Part 1. I won't use that quote anymore!

I regret tracing some art without being allowed to. That also includes editing art if they didn't like it! I don't edit if people don't enjoy it. Next time, I'm going to ask if it's Ok with everyone. But still, it got users angered when I did this to their art.

I regret drawing characters that are not suitable for nsfw moments. Basically, they're characters I drew naked and porn references that were -16. I find this very very wrong of me to do such a terrible thing! This is a topic for adults, not children.

I regret showing my private parts to a couple of minors. It was back in 2021 when I was talking to somebody about nsfw who is Bombomb's cousin, who I didn't realise this is a user that's 4 years younger than me and then there was someone named Alice who asked me the same thing. I should've thought twice before doing this. And this will never happen anymore! I know what's right and wrong. Especially, I need to be careful when talking about nsfw. Who knows what could happen...

I regret recolouring OCs and making them look like alts. (Yes, also without permission.) I can understand why people say that recolours are bad, but they're also interesting if you ask me. But not anymore since copyrights exist. Maybe I should stick to retrofitting?

I regret acting childish. Idk what to say about this but, I believe my acts were sort of childish. But not the anger issues. I also regret that too, getting mad at things for no reason. I'm just gonna keep calm, if I can. Sometimes anger issues do strike, but you can't often help it and I really need to grow up, suck it up and become a man! I am 18 now. I can do this.

I regret talking about buff people awkwardly. I recently found out that I have a buff fetish. Now that I have it, it's not going to leave my body. But good thing is, I can now control it!

I regret telling Maxh7 that she stinks and I told her to go and wash her tits. I realised that made me look like I'm transphobic. I don't want to be transphobic.

I regret threatening to strangle my friend Bart all because he kept on talking about LuigiFan. What I should've said was 'Can you stop talking about LuigiFan, please?'. I would also like it if nobody else would talk about LuigiFan as people have moved on from him. I am saying that in a nice way.

I regret saying 'I will shit on you if you keep on saying this!' The reason why is, it makes me look like I have a scat fetish, which is awful and I'm glad I don't.

I regret copying games and things for fun. I now realise this isn't fun. Copying is making me look very unoriginal. I'd rather stay original and choose other songs.

I regret saying the phrase 'So long, gay Bowser!' when I block someone. Because people thought it looked like I was homophobic. And I'm not a homophobic. I support LGBTQIA+.

I regret talking about NSFW with Aaron The Kid. Idk what got over me. But idc who started what. You can blame it on me, but just this once. I never wanted to make him uncomfortable, as well as a lot of people. I don't mean to do this. When me and him had that conversation, I didn't think before I said anything. But I won't do that again. I just want to have normal conversations.

I regret making threats of people who make my friends slightly upset. If they are slightly upset, I shouldn't go too far with the drama dealing. I will prefer not to do anything unless I am told to do something. If I am told not to interact with them, I won't target them.

I now regret getting mad at jokes that I don't like. I tried to tell people to stop, but when they don't listen, it just frustrates me. I need to control my emotions. And that is what I will do. When I say I don't like hat joke, I will just say 'Excuse me, but I do not like that joke. Can you not say it again in front of me please?'

I am starting to regret stuff about the minors situation. Most of my friends are minors, but they are 13+. I just can't get over the fact that I have many friends who are under 18 and over 13. And that can lead to consequences if I am not careful. So, if you want to shame me because I am an adult, you just want to do it because you would think that I am one of those people who are a minor lover. When in reality, I do not want to have any sexual activity with minors, not even in person! I just want to make friends. Sometimes, we have to care about friends. And you can get that feeling when you lose friends. Struggles are real, but all I want is to make friends, not enemies.

And finally, I regret getting mad over people talking about LuigiFan. I know he's bad for what he did, but he did say he changed when he dm'd me. Also, I must admit that he was my boyfriend back in 2022. I'm going to talk to him for real about this situation and see what me and him think. If it goes wrong, idk what else to do.

And that's all of my admits! Now that I've said this, I can finally be free and make the games I want to make again. Starting with a mod that you'll see soon. (Gamepage will be up soon too.) Btw, if any of my victims are also reading this, I am very sorry! These actions won't happen ever again and I want everything nice and peacefully while I'm here. And I'll promise to be mature. Alright, if you all can forgive me now, I'll be fine with that. Imma pop out now. See ya.
